Karrie Harmon is the Director of Programming at House of Hope. Karrie is an empathetic and compassionate leader who excels at communication. She is skilled in assessment, evaluation, intervention and development of treatment plans.

Karrie has a wealth of experience in counseling and working with clients from diverse populations. For ten years, she has been providing substance abuse counseling, assessment, and crisis intervention services in group and individual situations at both in-patient and voluntary service organizations.

Her crisis intervention, de-escalation, and conflict resolution skills create a safe space for clients and staff where people can receive the best care in a trauma-informed environment with the appropriate services.

Karrie's client-centric approach to services and her compassion for others ensures those served at House of Hope feel safe and valued.
